Detailed Action

All of the rejections at paper no. 13 have been rendered moot in light of applicant's amendments at paper no. 14.

(new rejections)

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-17, 22-23, 27-29, 35, 37-40, 42-45, 47-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, does not reasonably provide enablement for the for Z equal to -OOH. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The claims as recited are broader than the scope of enablement. The specification lacks direction or guidance for placing all of the alleged products in the possession of the public without inviting more than routine experimentation. The applicant is referred to In re Wands, 858 f.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988) which includes the incorporation of the 8 factors recited in Ex parte Foreman 230 USPQ 546 (Bd. Of App. And Inter 1986).

There are many factors to be considered when determining whether there is sufficient evidence to support a determination that a disclosure does not satisfy the enablement requirement and whether any necessary experimentation is

"undue". These factors include 1) the breadth of the claims, 2) the nature of the invention, 3) the state of the prior art, 4) the level of ordinary skill, 5) the level of predictability in the art, 6) the amount of direction provided by the inventor, 7) the existence of working examples, and 8) the quantity of experimentation needed to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure. In re Wands, 858 F. 2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

In terms of the breadth of the claims, Z encompasses a wider grouping of radicals than those synthesized and tested. 5) the level of predictability in the art is low since no compounds where Z is OOH were synthesized or tested. In terms of the sixth Wands factor, the amount of direction provided by the inventor is poor, because the applicant does not conduct tests for Z equal to OOH. In terms of the seventh Wands factor, the applicant does not provide any working examples where Z is OOH.

In terms of the 8th Wands factors, undue experimentation would be required to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure due to the breadth of the claims, the level of predictability in the art of the invention, and the poor amount of direction provided by the inventor. Taking the above factors into consideration, it is not seen where the instant claim is enabled by the instant application.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A. In claim 1, lines 1-2 page 2 of the amendment 14, the phrase "hydrophobic, hydrophilic or fluorophilic", is indefinite. The moieties that these terms are describing have not been defined in the claim.

B. In claim 1, line 5, page 2, the term "oxo" is indefinite because Z is not double bonded to the carbon atom.
